SUMMARY

I'm a self-taught entrepreneur and freelancer, passionate about problem solving, education, product and code.

From 2014 to 2017, I co-founded 3 startups in several Parisians accelerators, in education, entrepreneurship and code. In 2018, I launched my own startup called Empathie, a workshop-style training to "learn how to learn".

In parallel, I worked as a full-stack JavaScript developer, a startup educator and a consultant in process automation.

Currently open to new opportunities.
